

Daily Bible Note

Date: June 26, 2026

I. Today's Reading

NKJV: Nahum 1:9-15

9 What do you conspire against the Lord? He will make an utter end of it. Affliction will not rise up a second time.

10 For while tangled like thorns, And while drunken like drunkards, They shall be devoured like stubble fully dried.

11 From you comes forth one Who plots evil against the Lord, A wicked counselor.

12 Thus says the Lord: "Though they are safe, and likewise many, Yet in this manner they will be cut down When he passes through. Though I have afflicted you, I will afflict you no more;

13 For now I will break off his yoke from you, And burst your bonds apart."

14 The Lord has given a command concerning you: "Your name shall be perpetuated no longer. Out of the house of your gods I will cut off the carved image and the molded image. I will dig your grave, For you are vile."

15 Behold, on the mountains The feet of him who brings good tidings, Who proclaims peace! O Judah, keep your appointed feasts, Perform your vows. For the wicked one shall no more pass through you; He is utterly cut off.

II. Key Summary

- Nahum confronts Nineveh for plotting against the Lord, declaring they will be completely destroyed so that affliction will not rise a second time (vv. 9–11)
 - The Lord promises Judah: though He allowed them to suffer, He will personally break the yoke off their necks and burst their bonds apart (vv. 12–13)
 - The passage closes with a messenger bringing good news of peace on the mountains, calling Judah to keep their feasts and vows because the oppressor is utterly cut off (v. 15)
-

III. Passage Analysis

Plotting Against God Leads Nowhere

"Nineveh was ripe for a devastating judgment. This was not a harsh chastening; this was utter destruction to come upon the city. The promise 'affliction will not rise up a second time' sounds encouraging, until we realize that it will not rise up a second time because the judgment will be so severe the first time." [1]

No matter how powerful Assyria appeared, their conspiracy against God led to a dead end — so complete that the city of Nineveh vanished from history until archaeologists rediscovered it in the 1840s. Human schemes against God tend to collapse under the weight of their own pride.

God Breaks the Yoke and Brings Real Peace

"The LORD is good, a refuge in the day of distress. He cares for those who take refuge in him. God grieves over death, but his goodness and justice compel him to orchestrate the downfall of oppressive, destructive nations." [2]

The pivot in verses 12–15 is striking: right after pronouncing Nineveh's end, God turns to Judah — "I will afflict you no more; I will break off his yoke from you." The messenger running with good news on the mountains isn't just a political announcement; it's God personally restoring peace to the people He never abandoned.

IV. Reflection Question

Is there something that's been pressing down on you lately — expectations, a hard relationship, or guilt you can't shake off — and you just don't know when it'll end?

Nahum pictures God as one who sees every yoke his people carry and has the power to break it — and then sends someone up the mountain to announce that peace has arrived.

References

[1] Enduring Word, David Guzik, <https://enduringword.com/bible-commentary/nahum-1/>

[2] Bible Project, Book of Nahum Guide, <https://bibleproject.com/guides/book-of-nahum/>