

Daily Bible Note

Date: June 3, 2026

I. Today's Reading

NKJV: 1 Corinthians 11:27–34

27 Therefore whoever eats this bread or drinks this cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of the bread and drink of the cup.

29 For he who eats and drinks in an unworthy manner eats and drinks judgment to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

30 For this reason many are weak and sick among you, and many sleep.

31 For if we would judge ourselves, we would not be judged.

32 But when we are judged, we are chastened by the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world.

33 Therefore, my brethren, when you come together to eat, wait for one another.

34 But if anyone is hungry, let him eat at home, lest you come together for judgment. And the rest I will set in order when I come.

II. Key Summary

- "Unworthy manner" is about how you come to the table — the attitude you bring — not whether you're personally good enough; self-examination is preparation, not a filter.
 - The Corinthians' concrete failure: some stuffed themselves while others went hungry at the shared meal — this is what "not discerning the Lord's body" actually means.
 - The "judgment" Paul mentions is God's corrective discipline — like a parent redirecting a child — meant to restore, not condemn.
-

III. Passage Analysis

"Unworthily" Is About Attitude, Not Worthiness

"If anyone needs to remember the work of Jesus on the cross, it is the one who has sinned! When we are repentant, our sin should drive us to our Savior, not away from Him. However, if a Christian is in sin, and stubbornly unrepentant, they are mocking what Jesus did on the cross to cleanse them from their sin." [1]

Paul says "let him examine himself, and so let him eat" — the examination leads to the table, not away from it. Coming with a prepared, honest heart is the goal; staying home out of guilt is the opposite of what Paul intends.

Not Seeing Each Other = Not Seeing Christ's Body

"He who eats and drinks without discerning the Body (i.e., the Church) in that assembly, eats and drinks a judgment to himself." [2]

The Corinthians' problem wasn't a wrong theology about bread and wine — it was that they showed up together but acted like strangers: the rich ate well, the poor went hungry. "Wait for one another" (v. 33) is what recognizing Christ's body looks like in practice.

IV. Reflection Question

Think of a time when you were part of a group — a class lunch, a club hangout, a church small group — and you got wrapped up in your own circle, and only afterward realized someone nearby was on the edge, not quite included. Did you notice in the moment? What did you do?

If your first instinct had been "is that person okay?" instead of "did I do anything wrong?" — do you think you would have acted differently?

References

[1] Enduring Word, David Guzik,

<https://enduringword.com/bible-commentary/1-corinthians-11/>

[2] BibleHub, Ellicott's Commentary for English Readers,

https://www.biblehub.com/commentaries/1_corinthians/11-29.htm