I. Today's Reading

NKJV: Ezekiel 28:1-19

1 The word of the Lord came to me again, saying,

2 "Son of man, say to the prince of Tyre, 'Thus says the Lord God: "Because your heart is lifted up, And you say, 'I am a god, I sit in the seat of gods, In the midst of the seas,' Yet you are a man, and not a god, Though you set your heart as the heart of a god

3 (Behold, you are wiser than Daniel! There is no secret that can be hidden from you!

4 With your wisdom and your understanding You have gained riches for yourself, And gathered gold and silver into your treasuries;

5 By your great wisdom in trade you have increased your riches, And your heart is lifted up because of your riches);"

6 'Therefore thus says the Lord God: "Because you have set your heart as the heart of a god,

7 Behold, therefore, I will bring strangers against you, The most terrible of the nations; And they shall draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom, And defile your splendor.

8 They shall throw you down into the Pit, And you shall die the death of the slain In the midst of the seas.

9 "Will you still say before him who slays you, 'I am a god'? But you shall be a man, and not a god, In the hand of him who slays you.

10 You shall die the death of the uncircumcised By the hand of aliens; For I have spoken," says the Lord God.' "

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

12 "Son of man, take up a lamentation for the king of Tyre, and say to him, 'Thus says the Lord God: "You were the seal of perfection, Full of wisdom and perfect in beauty.

13 You were in Eden, the garden of God; Every precious stone was your covering: The sardius, topaz, and diamond, Beryl, onyx, and jasper, Sapphire, turquoise, and emerald with gold. The workmanship of your timbrels and pipes Was prepared for you on the day you were created.

14 "You were the anointed cherub who covers; I established you; You were on the holy mountain of God; You walked back and forth in the midst of fiery stones.

15 You were perfect in your ways from the day you were created, Till iniquity was found in you.

16 "By the abundance of your trading You became filled with violence within, And you sinned; Therefore I cast you as a profane thing Out of the mountain of God; And I destroyed you, O covering cherub, From the midst of the fiery stones.

17 "Your heart was lifted up because of your beauty; You corrupted your wisdom for the sake of your splendor; I cast you to the ground, I laid you before kings, That they might gaze at you.

18 "You defiled your sanctuaries By the multitude of your iniquities, By the iniquity of your trading; Therefore I brought fire from your midst; It devoured you, And I turned you to ashes upon the earth In the sight of all who saw you.

19 All who knew you among the peoples are astonished at you; You have become a horror, And shall be no more forever." "

II. Key Summary

- Through Ezekiel, God speaks to the prince of Tyre: because his heart was lifted up, he claimed "I am a god, I sit in the seat of gods," but God reminds him he is only a man, not a god (vv. 1-2).
 - The prince of Tyre gained great riches—gold and silver stored in his treasuries—through his own wisdom and trade, and his heart grew even prouder because of that wealth (vv. 4-5).
 - God announces He will bring the most terrible of the nations against him: he will be thrown down into the Pit, die in the midst of the seas, and finally be turned to ashes on the ground in the sight of all who watch (vv. 7-10, 16-19).

III. Passage Analysis

Pride is really just forgetting where it all came from

When individuals or nations rely too much on their own wisdom, ability, and wealth, they often mistakenly think they possess unlimited power and treat themselves as gods. [1]

The prince of Tyre's problem wasn't that he was rich or that he was smart. It was that he treated all of it as his own achievement and forgot it was ever given to him. Once someone believes "I built all this by myself," it's an easy slide into looking down on everyone else.

No matter how great you feel, you're still just a person

The king may imagine himself enthroned among the gods, but God sees reality for what it is, not what egomaniacs perceive it to be. [2]

How you see yourself in your head is one thing; who you actually are is another. However good the prince of Tyre felt about himself, God saw him clearly—a person who could fail, who could fall, and who would one day die.

IV. Reflection Question

When you ace a test, win a game, or pull something off, what's the first thought that pops into your head—"I'm the reason this worked," or do you think about the people who helped you along the way?

The prince of Tyre chalked every success up to himself and forgot he was only a man; try stopping to ask how much of your ability and your chances were actually handed to you rather than made by you.
