

Daily Bible Note

Date: August 10, 2026

I. Today's Reading

NKJV: Ezekiel 38:1-13

1 Now the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 "Son of man, set your face against Gog, of the land of Magog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal, and prophesy against him,

3 and say, 'Thus says the Lord God: "Behold, I am against you, O Gog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal.

4 I will turn you around, put hooks into your jaws, and lead you out, with all your army, horses, and horsemen, all splendidly clothed, a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords.

5 Persia, Ethiopia, and Libya are with them, all of them with shield and helmet;

6 Gomer and all its troops; the house of Togarmah from the far north and all its troops—many people are with you.

7 "Prepare yourself and be ready, you and all your companies that are gathered about you; and be a guard for them.

8 After many days you will be visited. In the latter years you will come into the land of those brought back from the sword and gathered from many people on the mountains of Israel, which had long been desolate; they were brought out of the nations, and now all of them dwell safely.

9 You will ascend, coming like a storm, covering the land like a cloud, you and all your troops and many peoples with you."

10 'Thus says the Lord God: "On that day it shall come to pass that thoughts will arise in your mind, and you will make an evil plan:

11 You will say, 'I will go up against a land of unwallled villages; I will go to a peaceful people, who dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates'—

12 to take plunder and to take booty, to stretch out your hand against the waste places that are again inhabited, and against a people gathered from the nations, who have acquired livestock and goods, who dwell in the midst of the land.

13 Sheba, Dedan, the merchants of Tarshish, and all their young lions will say to you, 'Have you come to take plunder? Have you gathered your army to take booty, to carry away silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods, to take great plunder?'"

II. Key Summary

- God tells Ezekiel to set his face against Gog of the land of Magog and to prophesy against him, declaring, "Behold, I am against you." (vv. 1-3)
 - God says He will put hooks into Gog's jaws, turn him around, and lead him out with his entire army; Persia, Ethiopia, Libya, Gomer, and the house of Togarmah march along with him. (vv. 4-7)
 - In the latter years Gog comes up against a people gathered back from the nations, living in a land with no walls, bars, or gates, and his plan is to take plunder and booty. (vv. 8-13)
-

III. Passage Analysis

However Big the Hostile Power, It Never Escapes God's Hand

God promised to bring Gog with all his army against Israel. Whatever Gog's own motivations for attack and invasion might be, there would be an overriding Divine purpose in this. [1]

Gog's army looks unstoppable, yet the passage says from the start that God is the one leading him out. However fierce his moves are, they still happen inside God's plan.

No Walls, and Still Dwelling Safely

This declares the simplicity of the godly, who seek not so much to fortify themselves by outward force, as to depend on the providence and goodness of God. [2]

Israel lived in villages with no walls and no gate bars, which made them look like easy targets to an enemy. Their sense of security came from God's promise, and had nothing to do with how high their walls were.

IV. Reflection Question

Among the things you're worried about right now, which one can't you control no matter how hard you try?

This passage says that even an army as huge as Gog's had hooks put into its jaws by God.

References

[1] Enduring Word, David Guzik, <https://enduringword.com/bible-commentary/ezekiel-38/>

[2] BibleHub, Geneva Study Bible,
<https://www.biblehub.com/commentaries/ezekiel/38-11.htm>