I. Today's Reading

NKJV: Ezekiel 34:25-31

25 "I will make a covenant of peace with them, and cause wild beasts to cease from the land; and they will dwell safely in the wilderness and sleep in the woods.

26 I will make them and the places all around My hill a blessing; and I will cause showers to come down in their season; there shall be showers of blessing.

27 Then the trees of the field shall yield their fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase. They shall be safe in their land; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have broken the bands of their yoke and delivered them from the hand of those who enslaved them.

28 And they shall no longer be a prey for the nations, nor shall beasts of the land devour them; but they shall dwell safely, and no one shall make them afraid.

29 I will raise up for them a garden of renown, and they shall no longer be consumed with hunger in the land, nor bear the shame of the Gentiles anymore.

30 Thus they shall know that I, the Lord their God, am with them, and they, the house of Israel, are My people," says the Lord God.

31 "You are My flock, the flock of My pasture; you are men, and I am your God," says the Lord God.

II. Key Summary

- God promises to make a covenant of peace with His people, removing wild beasts from the land so they can dwell safely and lie down in the wilderness and the woods.
 - God promises to make the area around His hill a blessing and send rain in its season, so the trees will yield fruit and the ground will yield its produce; the people will no longer be prey for other nations, devoured by wild animals, or suffer famine and disgrace.
 - God says His people will know that the Lord is with them, that they belong to Him as His flock and His people, and that He is their God.

III. Passage Analysis

Peace isn't a feeling — it's a situation God personally turns around

"Peace" here does not mean the absence of war, disease, or trouble — it means a state of blessing, health, and all-around prosperity. Only the Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ, can fully accomplish this covenant of peace; this prophecy is centered on the Messiah. [1]

The peace in this passage isn't just "feeling calm inside." Wild animals, famine, being taken advantage of — God deals with all these visible problems Himself. Peace here means God actually steps in and cleans up the mess, not a feeling you have to grind out on your own.

Who you are isn't yours to decide — God says it first

"You are men, and I am your God": This wonderful reminder assured Israel that even though they were like sheep, they were much more than sheep. They were men, made in the image of God and capable of so much more than sheep. [2]

Here God speaks first and says "you are Mine" — that identity isn't something Israel had to prove; it's a fact God stated and put on the table. Who owns you, who holds you close, gets decided before how well you're performing ever does.

IV. Reflection Question

Have you ever wondered who actually gets to decide who you are — you, or everyone else's opinion of you?

In this passage God speaks first to His people, "You are My flock... and I am your God" — that identity wasn't something they earned; God stated it as a fact.
