I. Today's Reading

NKJV: Ezekiel 45:9-25

9 ‘Thus says the Lord God: “Enough, O princes of Israel! Remove violence and plundering, execute justice and righteousness, and stop dispossessing My people,” says the Lord God.

10 “You shall have honest scales, an honest ephah, and an honest bath.

11 The ephah and the bath shall be of the same measure, so that the bath contains one-tenth of a homer, and the ephah one-tenth of a homer; their measure shall be according to the homer.

12 The shekel shall be twenty gerahs; twenty shekels, twenty-five shekels, and fifteen shekels shall be your mina.

13 “This is the offering which you shall offer: you shall give one-sixth of an ephah from a homer of wheat, and one-sixth of an ephah from a homer of barley.

14 The ordinance concerning oil, the bath of oil, is one-tenth of a bath from a kor. A kor is a homer or ten baths, for ten baths are a homer.

15 And one lamb shall be given from a flock of two hundred, from the rich pastures of Israel. These shall be for grain offerings, burnt offerings, and peace offerings, to make atonement for them,” says the Lord God.

16 “All the people of the land shall give this offering for the prince in Israel.

17 Then it shall be the prince’s part to give burnt offerings, grain offerings, and drink offerings, at the feasts, the New Moons, the Sabbaths, and at all the appointed seasons of the house of Israel. He shall prepare the sin offering, the grain offering, the burnt offering, and the peace offerings to make atonement for the house of Israel.”

18 ‘Thus says the Lord God: “In the first month, on the first day of the month, you shall take a young bull without blemish and cleanse the sanctuary.

19 The priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering and put it on the doorposts of the temple, on the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and on the gateposts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so you shall do on the seventh day of the month for everyone who has sinned unintentionally or in ignorance. Thus you shall make atonement for the temple.

21 “In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you shall observe the Passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 And on that day the prince shall prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bull for a sin offering.

23 On the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the Lord, seven bulls and seven rams without blemish, daily for seven days, and a kid of the goats daily for a sin offering.

24 And he shall prepare a grain offering of one ephah for each bull and one ephah for each ram, together with a hin of oil for each ephah.

25 “In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month, at the feast, he shall do likewise for seven days, according to the sin offering, the burnt offering, the grain offering, and the oil.”

II. Key Summary

- God tells the princes of Israel, "Enough," calling them to remove violence and plundering, to execute justice and righteousness, and to stop dispossessing His people (v. 9).
 - God commands honest scales, an honest ephah, and an honest bath, and sets the amounts the people are to bring: one-sixtieth of the wheat and barley, one-hundredth of the oil, and one lamb out of every two hundred (vv. 10-15).
 - The people give their offering to the prince, who provides the sacrifices at the feasts, New Moons, and Sabbaths; on the first and seventh days of the first month the sanctuary is cleansed with the blood of a bull for those who sinned unintentionally or in ignorance; Passover is kept on the fourteenth day of the first month and the feast on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, with daily burnt offerings and sin offerings prepared by the prince (vv. 16-25).

III. Passage Analysis

God cares about your scales, not just your offerings

God cares greatly about simple honesty and integrity among men. Scales and every measure should be righteous and fair. [1]

The same God who asks for the best of the harvest also insists that nobody rig the scales at the market — worship and honesty are two sides of one thing to Him.

There is a sacrifice even for the wrong you didn't mean to do

Sacrifices were appointed to atone for such sins as men were surprised into, or did before they were aware, which they would not have done if they had known and remembered aright, which they were overtaken in, and for which, afterwards, they condemn themselves. [2]

The sin offering on the seventh day was set aside specifically for "everyone who has sinned unintentionally or in ignorance" — the wrong you never planned but really did commit is not ignored by God, and it is not left for you to carry alone.

IV. Reflection Question

What is one small thing in your life where you know you haven't been fully honest, but you tell yourself it's no big deal?

God asks for honest scales, an honest ephah, and an honest bath, so the things you call no big deal do count with Him — and that unnoticed kind of wrong is exactly what He provided for when He set aside a sin offering "for everyone who has sinned unintentionally or in ignorance": "Christ is our passover, that is sacrificed for us."
