I. Today's Reading

NKJV: 1 Chronicles 22:2-19

2 So David commanded to gather the aliens who were in the land of Israel; and he appointed masons to cut hewn stones to build the house of God.

3 And David prepared iron in abundance for the nails of the doors of the gates and for the joints, and bronze in abundance beyond measure,

4 and cedar trees in abundance; for the Sidonians and those from Tyre brought much cedar wood to David.

5 Now David said, "Solomon my son is young and inexperienced, and the house to be built for the Lord must be exceedingly magnificent, famous and glorious throughout all countries. I will now make preparation for it." So David made abundant preparations before his death.

6 Then he called for his son Solomon, and charged him to build a house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And David said to Solomon: "My son, as for me, it was in my mind to build a house to the name of the Lord my God;

8 but the word of the Lord came to me, saying, 'You have shed much blood and have made great wars; you shall not build a house for My name, because you have shed much blood on the earth in My sight.

9 Behold, a son shall be born to you, who shall be a man of rest; and I will give him rest from all his enemies all around. His name shall be Solomon, for I will give peace and quietness to Israel in his days.

10 He shall build a house for My name, and he shall be My son, and I will be his Father; and I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Israel forever.'

11 Now, my son, may the Lord be with you; and may you prosper, and build the house of the Lord your God, as He has said to you.

12 Only may the Lord give you wisdom and understanding, and give you charge concerning Israel, that you may keep the law of the Lord your God.

13 Then you will prosper, if you take care to fulfill the statutes and judgments with which the Lord charged Moses concerning Israel. Be strong and of good courage; do not fear nor be dismayed.

14 Indeed I have taken much trouble to prepare for the house of the Lord one hundred thousand talents of gold and one million talents of silver, and bronze and iron beyond measure, for it is so abundant. I have prepared timber and stone also, and you may add to them.

15 Moreover there are workmen with you in abundance: woodsmen and stonecutters, and all types of skillful men for every kind of work.

16 Of gold and silver and bronze and iron there is no limit. Arise and begin working, and the Lord be with you.”

17 David also commanded all the leaders of Israel to help Solomon his son, saying,

18 “Is not the Lord your God with you? And has He not given you rest on every side? For He has given the inhabitants of the land into my hand, and the land is subdued before the Lord and before His people.

19 Now set your heart and your soul to seek the Lord your God. Therefore arise and build the sanctuary of the Lord God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the Lord and the holy articles of God into the house that is to be built for the name of the Lord.”

II. Key Summary

- David commanded the aliens in the land of Israel to be gathered and appointed masons to cut hewn stones; he prepared iron, bronze, and cedar in abundance. He said Solomon was young and inexperienced and the house for the Lord must be exceedingly magnificent, so he made abundant preparations before his death (vv. 2–5).

- David charged Solomon to build the house and told him that the Lord had not allowed David to build it, because he had shed much blood and made great wars; God promised David a son, a man of rest named Solomon, who would build a house for His name (vv. 6–10).

- David blessed Solomon, told him to keep the statutes and judgments and to be strong and of good courage, and listed the gold, silver, bronze, iron, timber, stone, and workmen he had prepared, saying "you may add to them" and "Arise and begin working." He also commanded the leaders of Israel to help Solomon, to set their heart and soul to seek the Lord, and to arise and build the sanctuary (vv. 11–19).

III. Passage Analysis

He couldn't build it, but he prepared anyway

Although God did not let David build the temple, he did not slack off because of it; he devoted himself to "preparing the materials" so that Solomon could complete the great work of building. "The success doesn't have to be mine" — this is the attitude a servant of God should have. [1]

David had it in his heart to build a house for God (v. 7), but God said, "you shall not build a house for My name" (v. 8). Even so, he made abundant preparations before his death (v. 5), and when he handed them to Solomon he added, "you may add to them" (v. 14).

Seeking God while building

David gave this command in the context of work, not the context of leisurely repose before God. David knew that it was possible to keep one's heart set on seeking God even in the midst of doing a great work before the LORD. [2]

Verse 19 puts "set your heart and your soul to seek the Lord" and "arise and build" in the same sentence. Before telling the leaders to build, David first reminded them that the Lord was with them and had given them rest on every side (v. 18).

IV. Reflection Question

If you really wanted to be up front, but were given the job of preparing things behind the scenes, what would you do?

David had it in his heart to build a house for God (v. 7), but the role God gave him was to prepare the materials, while the building was given to Solomon (vv. 8-10, 14). Just as David prepared materials for the temple, Jesus, the greater Son of David, took much trouble to prepare for the house of the LORD, and He has prepared the building materials: His people (Ephesians 2:19-22) [2].
