I. Today's Reading

NKJV: Ezekiel 46:1-15

1 Thus says the Lord God: "The gateway of the inner court that faces toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the Sabbath it shall be opened, and on the day of the New Moon it shall be opened.

2 The prince shall enter by way of the vestibule of the gateway from the outside, and stand by the gatepost. The priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings. He shall worship at the threshold of the gate. Then he shall go out, but the gate shall not be shut until evening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the entrance to this gateway before the Lord on the Sabbaths and the New Moons.

4 The burnt offering that the prince offers to the Lord on the Sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish;

5 and the grain offering shall be one ephah for a ram, and the grain offering for the lambs, as much as he wants to give, as well as a hin of oil with every ephah.

6 On the day of the New Moon it shall be a young bull without blemish, six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish.

7 He shall prepare a grain offering of an ephah for a bull, an ephah for a ram, as much as he wants to give for the lambs, and a hin of oil with every ephah.

8 When the prince enters, he shall go in by way of the vestibule of the gateway, and go out the same way.

9 "But when the people of the land come before the Lord on the appointed feast days, whoever enters by way of the north gate to worship shall go out by way of the south gate; and whoever enters by way of the south gate shall go out by way of the north gate. He shall not return by way of the gate through which he came, but shall go out through the opposite gate.

10 The prince shall then be in their midst. When they go in, he shall go in; and when they go out, he shall go out.

11 At the festivals and the appointed feast days the grain offering shall be an ephah for a bull, an ephah for a ram, as much as he wants to give for the lambs, and a hin of oil with every ephah.

12 "Now when the prince makes a voluntary burnt offering or voluntary peace offering to the Lord, the gate that faces toward the east shall then be opened for him; and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings as he did on the Sabbath day. Then he shall go out, and after he goes out the gate shall be shut.

13 "You shall daily make a burnt offering to the Lord of a lamb of the first year without blemish; you shall prepare it every morning.

14 And you shall prepare a grain offering with it every morning, a sixth of an ephah, and a third of a hin of oil to moisten the fine flour. This grain offering is a perpetual ordinance, to be made regularly to the Lord.

15 Thus they shall prepare the lamb, the grain offering, and the oil, as a regular burnt offering every morning."

II. Key Summary

- The east gateway of the inner court stays shut during the six working days and is opened only on the Sabbath and the New Moon; the prince enters through the vestibule, stands by the gatepost, worships at the threshold, and leaves the same way he came in (vv. 1-2, 8).
 - On the appointed feast days, whoever enters by the north gate goes out by the south gate, and whoever enters by the south gate goes out by the north gate — no one leaves through the gate they came in by; and when the people go in, the prince goes in with them, and when they go out, he goes out too (vv. 9-10).
 - Apart from the Sabbath, New Moon, and festival offerings, a lamb of the first year without blemish is to be prepared every single morning as a burnt offering, along with a grain offering of fine flour and oil, as a perpetual ordinance (vv. 13-15).

III. Passage Analysis

Even the Prince Only Gets as Far as the Threshold

"The prince will not isolate himself from the people on the feast days but be a part of the crowd." [1]

The highest-ranking person in the land still worships at the threshold — not one step further in — and walks in and out with everyone else. Before God, nobody gets to cut the line.

The Lamb Every Morning

"We must never omit our daily worship, nor neglect to apply the sacrifice of the Lamb of God to our souls." [2]

After all the rules about festivals, New Moons, and Sabbaths, the passage lands on two words: every morning. What actually holds a person's faith together usually isn't the few moving gatherings — it's the small thing you do every day.

IV. Reflection Question

What was the first thing you did after you woke up this morning?

The passage says the lamb was to be prepared every morning — God isn't looking for the days you feel most fired up, but for whether you'll put Him first in an ordinary one.
