I. Today's Reading

NKJV: Ezekiel 37:1-14

1 The hand of the Lord came upon me and brought me out in the Spirit of the Lord, and set me down in the midst of the valley; and it was full of bones.

2 Then He caused me to pass by them all around, and behold, there were very many in the open valley; and indeed they were very dry.

3 And He said to me, "Son of man, can these bones live?" So I answered, "O Lord God, You know."

4 Again He said to me, "Prophecy to these bones, and say to them, 'O dry bones, hear the word of the Lord!'"

5 Thus says the Lord God to these bones: "Surely I will cause breath to enter into you, and you shall live."

6 "I will put sinews on you and bring flesh upon you, cover you with skin and put breath in you; and you shall live. Then you shall know that I am the Lord."

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and suddenly a rattling; and the bones came together, bone to bone.

8 Indeed, as I looked, the sinews and the flesh came upon them, and the skin covered them over; but there was no breath in them.

9 Also He said to me, "Prophecy to the breath, prophecy, son of man, and say to the breath, 'Thus says the Lord God: "Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may live."'"

10 So I prophesied as He commanded me, and breath came into them, and they lived, and stood upon their feet, an exceedingly great army.

11 Then He said to me, "Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. They indeed say, 'Our bones are dry, our hope is lost, and we ourselves are cut off!'"

12 "Therefore prophecy and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God: "Behold, O My people, I will open your graves and cause you to come up from your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel.'""

13 "Then you shall know that I am the Lord, when I have opened your graves, O My people, and brought you up from your graves."

14 "I will put My Spirit in you, and you shall live, and I will place you in your own land. Then you shall know that I, the Lord, have spoken it and performed it," says the Lord.

II. Key Summary

- The Spirit of the Lord brought Ezekiel to a valley full of bones — very many of them, and very dry; God asked him, "Can these bones live?" and he answered, "O Lord God, You know."

- Ezekiel prophesied as commanded, and the bones came together bone to bone, with sinews, flesh, and skin covering them — but there was no breath in them; only after he prophesied to the breath did they live, stand on their feet, and become an exceedingly great army.

- God said the bones are the whole house of Israel, who were saying, "Our bones are dry, our hope is lost"; He promised to open their graves, put His Spirit in them, and bring them back into their own land.

III. Passage Analysis

"Our hope is lost" was their verdict on themselves

Ezekiel had no hope in the bones, but he did have hope in God. Ezekiel did not presume to know what God wanted to do with the bones. Ezekiel was confident that God did know. [1]

When God asked, "Can these bones live?", Ezekiel neither forced a yes nor settled for a no — he handed the answer back to God. In verse 11 Israel had already written themselves off with "we ourselves are cut off," but that was their conclusion, not God's.

Being put back together is not the same as being alive

By degrees sinews and flesh came upon these bones, and the skin covered them; still there was no breath in them; they wanted spirit and courage. [2]

The bones were joined, the flesh grew, the skin covered them — they looked like complete people, and they were still lying there. Not until the breath came from the four winds did they stand up. Verse 14 says it plainly: what makes them live is the Spirit God puts inside them.

IV. Reflection Question

Is there something in your life you have already decided is beyond fixing?

Israel said, "Our hope is lost," and God's next words were, "I will put My Spirit in you, and you shall live."
